TONIGHT

A chat tool answers questions. An agent does a job.

We put four agents on the same kind of small-business job and see which one a busy owner could actually use. Nothing is sold in the room.

DO THIS NOW

Keep one real task from your business in mind: something an agent could try for you this week. We'll come back to it at the end.

THE ORDER

Four agents, one at a time.

FIRST UP

Claude Duet

"The unknown."

NEXT

Dots

The ChatGPT one.

THEN

Muse

Watch it on phone and tablet.

LAST

Grok Bot

The main live demo.

Same job for all four. Your scorecard decides tonight. I'll share my own pick at the end.

YOUR SCORECARD

Six questions. Score 1 to 5.

1. How little setup before it could try a real job?
2. Could a busy owner use it tonight, no developer needed?
3. Could it pick up work you started somewhere else?
4. Did it feel the same on desktop, phone and tablet?
5. Did it make something useful, without contacting real people?
6. Would you actually try it on one job this week?

Same card for all four. Write ? if you didn't see enough to judge. Score what you saw, not what you hoped to see.

FIRST UP · "THE UNKNOWN"

Claude Duet.

MY TAKE

Too much configuration for a busy owner. It couldn't pick up my laptop Claude Code sessions, and it wants a repository set up first.

How much setup is on screen before it can try a job?

Can it pick up work already started, or does it want a fresh setup?

Could you use it tonight without a developer?

NEXT · THE CHATGPT ONE

Dots.

MY TAKE

We test it live together.

How much setup before it's useful?

Does it work on a phone or tablet the same as a laptop?

Can it finish a useful draft right here in the room?

THEN

Muse.

MY TAKE

One to watch for working the same way on desktop, phone and tablet. Everything else is a live question.

- Does it really feel the same on every device?
- How much setup before it can try the job?
- Would you trust its draft enough to edit and use?

LAST UP · THE MAIN LIVE DEMO

Grok Bot.

WHAT TO WATCH

The point to watch: does it feel the same on desktop, phone and tablet?

Same job, start to finish, live.

Then you name a task and we run it.

If there's time, the same job on a phone, so you see it instead of hearing about it.

YOUR TASK, LIVE

Name a task. Here are the rules.

1

Name it

A real job from your week, or pick one of mine.

2

Done when

One sentence: what "finished" looks like.

3

No real people

No real emails, texts, posts or payments. Fake names only.

4

Drafts only

Nothing gets sent. We look at the draft.

5

Score it

Score what you saw.

QUIET ROOM? TRY ONE OF THESE

Three safe test jobs.

Follow-up

Draft a follow-up to someone you met at a networking event.

Services list

Outline a one-page list of what your business offers.

Notes to checklist

Turn messy notes into a clean checklist you could hand someone.

THE SCORES

Add it up. Then pick one task.

Your scores

- Which agent scored highest for you?
- Where did each one surprise you?
- No need for a unanimous winner.

Before you leave

- Write down one task you'll hand an agent this week.
- Write down which agent you'll try first.
- Need a Grok Bot account? I'll help you set one up.

WHAT'S NEXT

Keep testing. Keep building.

Free, on Google Meet

- Live Build, Monday Dec 14, 7 PM: a Google Review Replier, built from scratch
- Ask Me Anything: every other Monday, 7 PM
- All dates: dynamicbuzzlabs.com/events

Three rules to keep

- Never type a password into a chat
- Be careful with financial, health and employee records
- Read before you tap yes, especially prices and promises

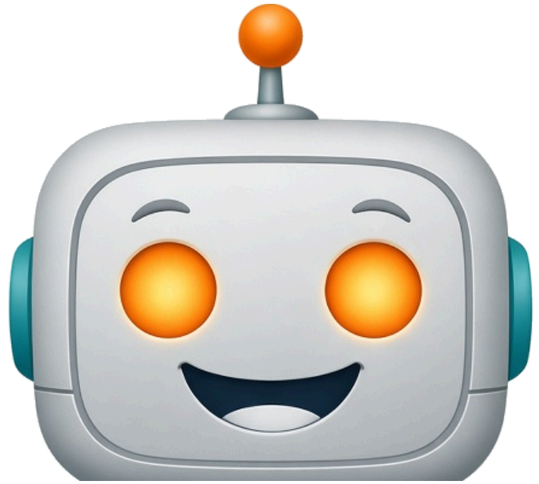

Want help putting agents to work in your business? Ask me about Phantom Office.

YOUR TURN

Questions?

Nothing is too basic. Ask about anything we covered, or tell me the task you wrote down and we'll pick the right agent for it.

Roles Goals Rules Tools

Thank you.

Thanks for spending your time here. Hand one agent one real job this week.
